East High's "E", made of flowers was soon removed after our coming because of the construction of the new cafeteria.

East High, as seniors found it . . .

The 1974 seniors came to East with much excitement and enthusiasm. As sophomores we were eager to make new friends and see our old ones. Our first insights to East came on orientation day when we were greeted by the faculty and formally introduced to East. Scarlet spirit and pride soon filled the sophomores as they became involved in East High's activities.

Crowded halls and blocked stairways were a common sight at the beginning of the year, later remedied by the new addition.

All in all, we found East High a school with many old traditions but also new ideas and goals.

Left: Coming to East, we discovered this little building students called the "sugar shack" where food and drink were sold during lunch. The "sugar shack" was located north of the present cafeteria and was removed to make room for the new addition on the north side of the building.

Changed it . . .

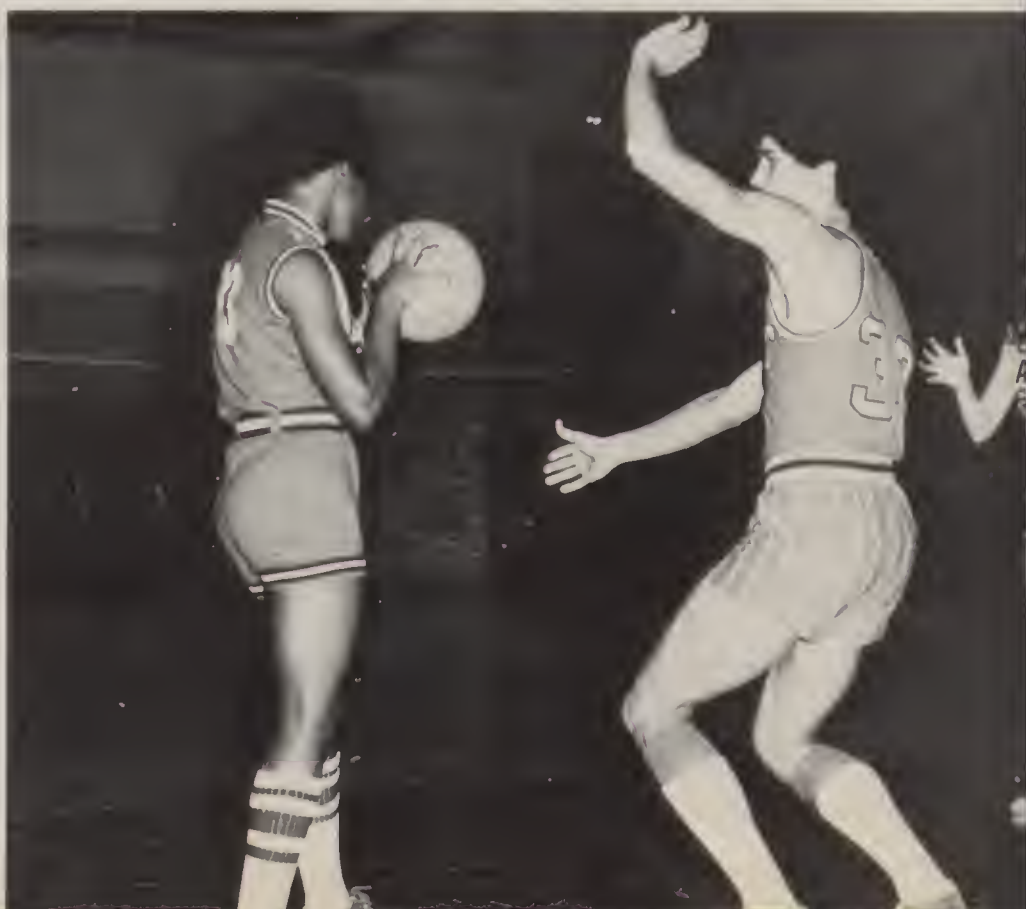

School resumed in September, and with the new year came many revisions.

The first of these revisions was open scheduling. For the first time in many years students were allowed to choose the classes and teachers they wanted. Counselors were present to aid and supervise them in their selection.

Remodeling began on the new student center. A juke box and tape recorder were purchased and a television set was made available for the students' use. Ice cream and candy were also sold during the study periods.

Alterations were also made during basketball season when girls' varsity games were played on the same night as boys' varsity games. The sophomore boys' and girls' basketball games were played on Monday nights.

And left it in the year 1974 . . .

Just as we found and changed East, we have also left it. Each of us went away a year older, perhaps more mature, and thankful for the experiences we encountered.

This year has influenced each of us in many ways. From our teachers and friends, we gained knowledge and insight; from our activities we gained experience.

When the sophomores came, they may have been dedicated to their previous school, but when they departed, they were a part of East. No longer the low men on the totem pole, they await the new year when they become more involved in the school.

The junior class left looking forward to, and anticipating their new roles as leaders. They are the link between the past year and the upcoming one.

With much regret and yet eagerly awaiting the future, the senior class left and joined the honored ranks of the alumni. Many times they will look back at their years at East and share their experiences.

Open scheduling, the new student center, and boys' and girls' basketball marked 1974 as a year of change. But one thing that never changes is the spirit of East High. It is shown daily by the students at this school. It is our determination that makes East the best school in Des Moines.

The student body kept the traditions of East alive and left new ones for future generations to follow.

We left, but many memories remain.

INVOLVEMENT

In the news

Watergate raged on. President Nixon fired Watergate prosecutor Archibald Cox, triggering mass resignations throughout his staff. Controversies concerning White House tapes aroused public opinion to a peak.

Gerald Ford took the oath of office on December 6, 1973, filling the vacancy left after the resignation of Spiro T. Agnew as Vice-President two months earlier.

Everyone did his part to help in the energy crisis. To conserve fuel, gas stations were asked to close completely on Sundays and to shorten their hours throughout the week. Americans were asked to take their vacations at home, instead of traveling; airlines cut back the number of flights they would make. President Nixon asked people to turn down their thermostats. Federal and state institutions did so, advising occupants to "dress warm."

Americans got a glimpse of English royalty at the wedding of Princess Anne to Lieutenant Mark Phillips, which was telecast from Westminster Abbey in November.

Homecoming '74 marks beginning of East Era

The 73-74 Homecoming activities got off to a start with Spirit Week, with its annual door and cake-decorating contests. Highlighting the week was an assembly, held in the boys' gym, at which the Colorguard, Steppers, Majorettes, and Cheerleaders performed. The Scarlet "Stompers" made their debut, and the teachers presented a skit. Contest winners were also named. During this assembly, Lori Sherman was named Homecoming Queen. Seniors Lynn Beghtol and Becky Staley were princesses and junior Tami Maupin and sophomore Karen Brandenburg were attendants. The Homecoming parade was highlighted by the traditional float, constructed by Pep Club.

The game against Dowling was played during a downpour. Even though we lost, in overtime, 8-6, the Scarlets proved their spirit could not be "dampened" by defeat.

The climax of spirit week came on Saturday night, September 29, with the Homecoming dance. The band "Kiss" provided the music. The highlight of the evening came with the coronation of the queen and her court. Homecoming 74 had come and gone, but "The Dawning of the Scarlet Era" had just begun.

Events bring spirit alive

The making of the float, the baking of cakes, and the decorating of doors were the first events to bring the Homecoming spirit alive. Clowns, boys dressed up as Steppers, and the coronation of the queen highlighted the Homecoming assembly. Focusing around the queen, her court, and the float, the Searlets displayed their pride by following a parade route around the Capitol grounds. The Homecoming dance rounded out the weekend of events.

New style of scheduling

Because students' schedules often have mistakes, a new scheduling procedure was introduced this year. This new type of scheduling allows students to choose their own classes and provides teachers with check-out places to be sure that students have taken the required subjects. Students are advised along the scheduling route about classes that have been filled or closed. Most students and counselors agreed that it was a faster and more effective method.

Assemblies enhance spirit

Spirit was the key word when students attend any of the year's pep assemblies. If you didn't have spirit when you came in, you left with it. The Band, Steppers and Colorguard performed, and occasional skits highlighted the activities. Special assemblies centered around Homecoming, which included the crowning of the queen, as well as Halloween and 50's Day, when students dressed in the style of the 50's. Most of the assemblies were accented with sports, boosting spirit before the games. Most students felt that they did help cheer the teams on.

Club hosts 2 from abroad

We have had more of a chance to broaden our understanding of other countries this year than we have had in any previous year.

Never before have we had two foreign students within one year. Ashley Tiffen, from England, and Staffan Holm, from Sweden, have come to be a part of the AFS "family."

Miss Thelma Whitford, English teacher, is the sponsor of the AFS (American Field Service) program. This program raises money throughout the year to support the foreign students.

Students add life to new cafeteria

"Could I have extra potatoes, please?"

"I'll have three chocolate-chip cookies and two cartons of chocolate milk."

Such are the conversations that can easily be heard as some 1500 starving students stampede the new cafeteria, after a morning full of stimulating classes.

If you can survive the torture of the line, the next feat to accomplish is finding a seat in a sea full of food-stuffed faces.

Groping along the crowded tables in search for a seat, you spy a table in the far corner. More squeezing and "excuse me pleases" follow until you finally reach your ultimate goal.

Ah! At last you can fill your growling tummy!

Dances follow night games

Finding something to do after the football and basketball games was made easier by the after-game dances, sponsored by Student Government. Students occupied themselves by either dancing or enjoying the bands that played. Selected bands played varieties of music, ranging from rock to mood music.

Seventeen students and two chaperones represented East High in an International Choral Festival held in Rome, Italy, over Christmas vacation. Seven choirs from all over the United States were judged and graded. The choirs also performed at several cathedrals in Rome, with a trip to Paris and a concert in Notre Dame. The group left December 26 and returned January 2.

Sponsored by the Des Moines Chapter of the United Nations Association, 28 juniors left to visit the United Nations and Washington D.C. March 29. The trip included sightseeing in New York and Washington, with a concentrated study on the United Nations. They returned April 6.

Audiences enjoy musical

"Bye, Bye, Birdie" was a happy, zestful show which poked gentle fun at the younger generation, the Elvis craze, television, telephones, and various other American fads and follies. In the musical, Albert Peterson makes a last attempt to make a profit on teen-age singing idol Conrad Birdie before he is drafted into the army.

Directing the play was Miss Gaines; Mr. Carnes was the play's music director. The musical was held March 15, 16, 17, and 19.

Although many people are involved in the annual 12B Christmas dance, no one is lost in the crowd. On that evening everyone is an individual. Adding their own personal touch to the excitement of 12B are seniors Cindy McClaskey and Alex Creger.

Passing through the magic of 12B

Amid the glow of candles . . . could be seen couples . . . smiling . . . talking . . . contemplating . . . as the reflections of their images danced on the dark walls.

The soft melodic music of "Children" seemed to invite the gowned and tuxed couples to the dance floor. Others enjoyed the refreshments that were available and mingled among their fellow classmates and teachers.

"We May Never Pass This Way Again" was selected as the theme for 12B. The Christmas dance was held at the Hotel Fort Des Moines Saturday, December 22.

Fifty-six senior girls hosted the dance. Each girl paid $15 to become a hostess and spent time on committees in putting the dance together. Heading up all organization of the dance were co-chairmen Carol Johnson and Theresa Kouri. Each hostess received two goblets woven together with a red satin ribbon.

Colorfully displayed throughout the ballroom were the colors of burgundy and silver.

Gay Nineties reflects upon Spree images

Keystone cops, a balloon man, and an ice-cream parlor highlighted the carnival-like atmosphere and "Gay Nineties" theme of the Spinster Spree. The Spinster Spree is a turnabout affair where the girl asks the boy and pays for all. The marriage booth, jail, and ring toss added to the air of excitement.

Coronation of a queen and king, along with their court, rounded out the gala affair. Music was provided by "Four Jacks and a Jill." The event was sponsored by Girls' Club.

Goals begin with new student center

Completing the student center was Student Government's main goal, along with providing more activities for students and better student-faculty relationships.

First semester Student Government helped with S.A.T. sales, the new registration, and the Booster Club drive for new members. They also set up sophomore orientation, campaigned for United Way, and helped in Homecoming.

Second semester Student Government campaigned for muscular dystrophy. They sponsored Exchange Day, where 27 students from nine different schools visited, and also sponsored 50's Day.

After-game dances and pep assemblies were provided by both semesters of Student Government.

Scroll Staff Edits 16 Issues Of Newspaper

"Meet that deadline" and "Get those details" were heard almost every day in the Scroll Staff.

The Scroll was published biweekly. First, a story list was compiled, and pages were laid out. Then, students did the necessary research and interviewing and wrote their assigned stories and headlines. When pictures were ready, captions were written and all stories, captions, and headlines were sent to the printer, who returned proofs. Finally, the most dreaded day of working on publishing the Scroll was faced by the entire staff—proofreading and paste-up day, when proofs were read and all stories, headlines, captions, and pictures were cut and revised to fit the layout. The final paste-up was returned to the printer, who produced the final copy read by the student body.

Staff produces distinctive book: new appearance

Seeking to create a distinctive and outstanding yearbook, the Quill staff began the year by choosing new layout styles. Cover design was decided upon, with the final art work being completed by Randy Patton.

In an effort to create more space for students and their activities, the number of sections was decreased to three, with more general headings: Involvement, Insights, and Individuals.

The staff traveled to the University of Iowa to attend a fall workshop on all aspects of creating a yearbook.

Kept busy by deadlines, the staff had a productive year.

Cheerleaders adjust to many changes

Many changes affected the cheerleading squads this year. Two tryouts were held, the first one for a fall squad. The varsity fall squad cheered at the varsity football games while junior varsity cheered at the girls' swimming, cross country, and J.V. football games. Tryouts were again held in October for the spring squad. This enabled cheerleaders to go out for a sport and to be a cheerleader in the alternating season. The varsity spring squad cheered at boys' varsity basketball games while the junior varsity cheered at boys swimming and J.V. basketball games as well as girls' varsity games.

Cheerleaders gain two new squads

Two new squads were added to the cheerleading groups this year. This was necessary because of the addition of girls' sports to the crowded schedule of boys' sports. The sophomore squad is composed of eight girls who tried out at the end of their freshman year. They cheered at sophomore football games. Tryouts were again held in October for a spring squad to cheer at the sophomore girls' and boys' basketball games. Boys' and girls' games usually being played on the same night.

Wrestling squad tryouts were held in October, with a squad of six girls who act as an independent squad with separate meetings and practices.

Majorettes demonstrate East pride

The Majorettes started off the year with new uniforms.

Their being an all-sophomore squad created a challenge as they tried to carry on all the traditional activities of past Majorettes. Their enthusiasm was evident at many performances with the East High Marching Scarlets.

Sophomores Kelly Mann, Stefani Sibert, Bambi LeGuerrier, and Rosemary Wallace.

Colorguard a proud part of East High

The crowd grows silent as 14 girls solemnly take their places. A voice booms over the loudspeaker, "Ladies and gentlemen, please rise as the 1973-74 Colorguard presents the flag, accompanied by the band as they play the National Anthem." A young girl's serious voice is heard clearly through the quietest time of the game, "Parade Rest." The squad comes to attention as they start their drill.

As they finish the performance of their drill, the team once again rushes out and the crowd begins to roar.

Steppers are involved with activities

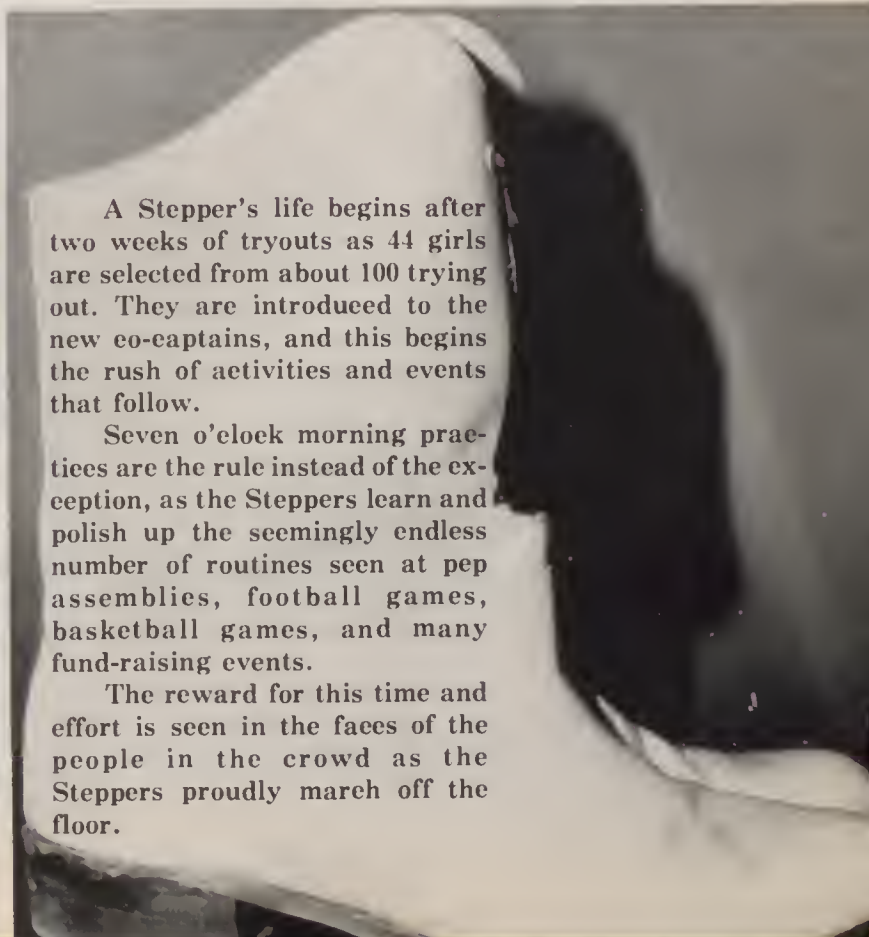

Junior Kim Cosner has a look of satisfaction as she finishes a Stepper routine.

A Stepper's life begins after two weeks of tryouts as 44 girls are selected from about 100 trying out. They are introduced to the new co-captains, and this begins the rush of activities and events that follow.

Seven o'clock morning practices are the rule instead of the exception, as the Steppers learn and polish up the seemingly endless number of routines seen at pep assemblies, football games, basketball games, and many fund-raising events.

The reward for this time and effort is seen in the faces of the people in the crowd as the Steppers proudly march off the floor.

Marching Band performs in Louisiana

The Mardi Gras trip became a reality for the Marching Scarlets, a group including Marching Band, Steppers, Colorguard, and Baton Twirlers, and it will not soon be forgotten. For many, the excitement was New Orleans, Louisiana, where the marchers performed in two parades, one of which was the longest in the world. Blisters, sunburn, and exhaustion accompanied the thrill and awe of a new experience. Another popular place was Bourbon Street, with row after row of jazz bars and "hotsy-totsy" joints. Band members are unanimous in the decision that all the work and sweat used to earn the money was well worth it.

Along with Mardi Gras, Marching Band marched in contests, football games, and also performed in the Pella Tulip Festival.

Concert Band features new music groups

In addition to the regular performances given by Concert Band, three groups were formed from the 118 members to provide a greater variety of music.

Show Band concentrated on songs from hit Broadway shows, as Pep Band played marches and popular tunes. Stage Band continued to impress listeners with their version of all-time jazz favorites.

With the advent of Daylight Saving Time, the Concert Band members found early morning practices a grueling experience, but their efforts were well worth it. Their performances of the year, under the direction of Mr. Don Bury, were among the best East High has ever seen.

Scarlet Singers demonstrate talent

Scarlet Singers

The Scarlet Singers started out with 28 singers and one piano player. They were one of the first choreographic swing choirs in Iowa. Now, after five years of existence, they have 16 members, a piano player, a set of drums, three trumpets, a trombone, and both rhythm and bass guitars.

They give performances before church groups, civic organizations, state conventions, and nursing homes. The donations or payments they receive have been used to purchase their costumes, instruments, and equipment, and to pay for their travel expenses. They have also used the money to help finance two trips to Europe: one in 1971, to London, Paris, and Rome; the second in 1973 to Geneva, Paris, Brussels, Amsterdam, and London.

This year they were involved in a clinic at Lincoln High School, to learn and further develop their talents in singing and dancing. They also attended a contest in Fremont, Nebraska, for the third year. To add to this contest, they did a special act on roller skates.

Their final performance at East was held May 9 and 10.

Chamber Choir

Chamber Choir started in the second semester of last year, and came back as a fully developed group this fall. The 17 members of this group practice on their own time to bring out the best A Cappella, light rhythmic music of the Renaissance period, which has no instrumental accompaniment. They presented their final performance at East April 30.

Melody Tucker and Ken Hopper exhibit their talents as they perform for Scarlet Singers. Choreographic Swing Choirs like this combine dancing with music.

Choirs bring enjoyment

Both A Cappella Choir and Swing Choir presented East High with three very good programs, the fall, Christmas, and spring programs.

Besides performing for our student body, they also gave assemblies at some of the junior high schools.

Out of all the groups in the Vocal Music Department, A Cappella Choir was the largest, with 85 members. Swing Choir was the second largest, with 63 members.

For a change in scenery, the choir tried giving a performance in the new cafeteria. The program followed the format of a "Nightclub Act," with coke, coffee and refreshments available for the audience. It worked out well on the very first attempt.

New uniforms help to spark East spirit

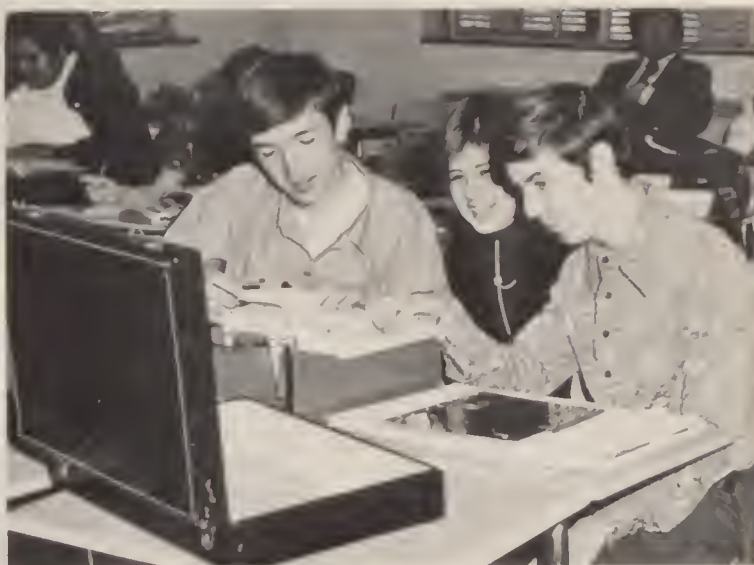

Pep Club has a membership of 250 people. For many, membership means wearing their uniforms to school and to the games in order to earn their letters. Only a few pay the dues just for the privilege of saying they're in Pep Club.

Senior Wendy Walters gave these comments about Pep Club: "We have more members than we've had for quite a few years and, with new uniforms, the company had a bigger order from us than from any other school in the state. I'm looking forward to a very good year."

Debate team gains from new experiences

Sophomores comprised most of the members of the debate team, and debating was a new experience for most of them. Mr. Nelson, coach, considers this to be a year of rebuilding and is looking forward to having some very experienced debaters on next year's team.

A national topic is chosen every year for all debate teams to use in their preparation for debate tournaments. This year's team claims to have 10 pounds of material on the pro's and con's "of a guaranteed federal income."

JA, $75 Club offer sales opportunities

Learning by doing is the principle behind Junior Achievement. Students meet once a week for two hours and actually run a business. Stock is sold, production lines form, and everyone sells the company products.

Gaining experience through actual practice, many students were educated in many aspects of the business world.

Likewise, students in the $75 Club gained experience through selling $75 worth of ads for East's publications.

Right: It seems the bookwork will never end for senior Cathy Hoffman, left, and sophomore Laura Binkley, as they work for their JA company.

OE, Art Club explore areas of interest

Giving students the opportunity to further explore the field of art, the Art Club interested many students.

Through field trips, students were introduced to forms of art not normally taught in the classroom.

A trip to the Art Center found the club admiring the beautiful handwork of American Indians. The Salisbury House educated students in furniture, paintings, and ceramics from several time periods.

Through extra-curricular activities, future artists gained extra knowledge and a greater appreciation of art.

The Office Education Club also had an interesting year. When its members were not busy working in the afternoon at their jobs obtained through OE, they were busy planning fund-raising activities. The selling of candy and football programs, plus a bake sale, brought in funds which were used to plan a bowling party, sledding and skating party, and an employee-employer banquet.

Performances provide experience

Silent Vibrations, a new pantomime group, were called upon many times to present their varied interpretations of different subjects.

Their silent dramatizations were welcomed at the East Side Library, the Lucas State Office Building, and an East Des Moines Kiwanis luncheon. The group also added a different touch to our assemblies.

Both their witty and serious presentations were enjoyed by all students.

The Stage Crew worked hard to satisfy our many needs at our assemblies and stage productions.

Right: "If I could only find the right switch," remarks senior Herb Green as he works on the light panel.

Science Club, DECA serve students well

The Science Club's varied activities kept the club busy.

A field trip to the Science Center found the members gazing at stars, while a trip to a local hospital interested future doctors, nurses, and technicians.

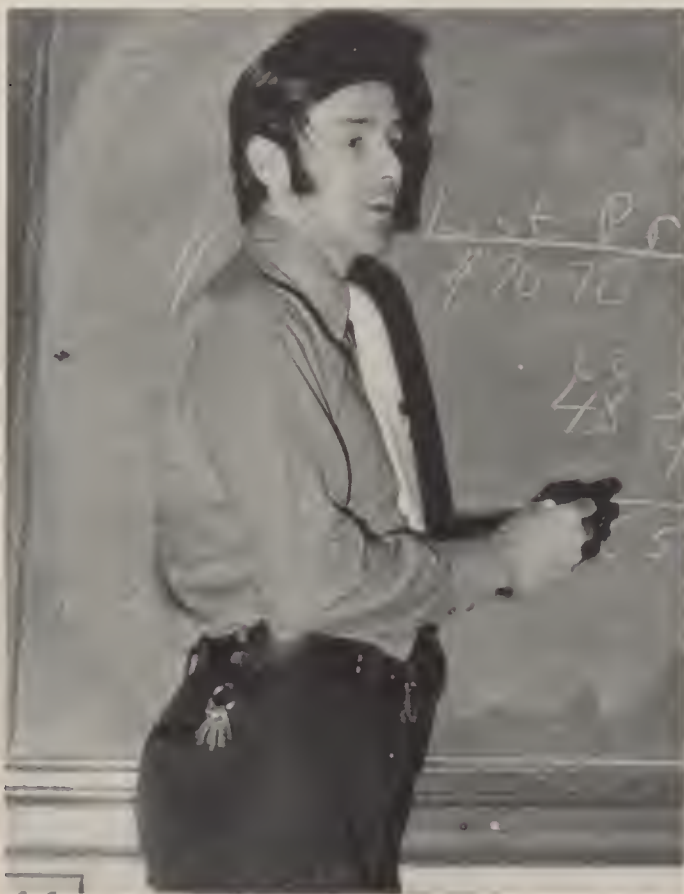

A paper airplane contest helped complete an interesting year.

The Distributive Education Clubs of America serve to train students who are interested in marketing and distribution.

Girls' Club gives service

What does it mean to be a part of Girls' Club? Each month brings a new project.

Following the membership drive was a Halloween party for the children at General Hospital. Filling Thanksgiving baskets and decorating the library filled the spirit of the holidays.

A jewelry presentation started out the new year. February highlighted a successful Spinsters' Spree. Elections were held in April, and the last activity was the Mother-Daughter Tea.

Routines highlight annual show

Thirty girls make up the group of Synchroettes. They attend various stunt meets throughout the year against other schools. Their main goal is to produce the show they hold annually in April. Each girl chooses her own music and costumes, and it is up to her to make up her own routine. All year is spent in preparation for the show.

"American Pastimes" was chosen this year's theme. Having put a lot of effort into their preparations, the girls produced a successful show.

Committee seeks "togetherness"

"Togetherness 74" highlighted the activities of the Human Relations Committee, a group composed of 25 student members and two advisors, Mr. Don Graves, school-community worker, and Mr. Earl Bridgewater, principal. Held on February 14, the day consisted of an all-school breakfast, guest speakers, swimming, the film "Brian's Song", and a dance in the gym. It gave teachers and students the opportunity to meet and mingle with new people in a less formal atmosphere.

Earlier in the year the committee traveled to Waterloo to observe two high schools there, and as one member stated, "It brought our own group closer together."

Other activities planned were panel discussions, seminars, a student exchange day, and an open talk with the teachers.

With the help of this group, much unwanted tension was relieved, and doors have been opened to better communication among students, teachers, and the community.

Afro Club, Gospel Choir unite people

Afro Club had a busy year, performing a number of needed services within the community as well as within the school. The 42-member group sponsored a plan to obtain a plaque for the Martin Luther King Jr. Park, and also distributed food baskets at Christmas. A lot of work went into the building of a spook house during Halloween, but admission was charged and the club made over $100. A dance was held with the profits.

Gospel Choir is a music group composed of anyone between the ages of 12 and 21. The choir performs mostly in churches, and appeared on television. They also participated in a music program held at East.

Language clubs join together

Getting together for swimming and skiing parties highlighted the activities of all four language clubs.

French Club had a design contest for a booklet they printed about the perfume and candles they sold. Halloween and Christmas parties were held too.

German Club visited the Amana Colonies again this year. They tied for first place with French Club in the Christmas tree contest, and also celebrated King and Queen Truemmerberg and Fasching later in the season.

Latin Club celebrated Saturnalia (Christmas) and attended the Latin Banquet and Convention.

Spanish Club had a Christmas party, and for an extra treat they had donuts and hot chocolate before school on several occasions.

New Chess Club; FCA interest athletes

Chess Club this year includes 10 members. These members compete with other high schools in the Metro Conference, which includes all Des Moines high schools and Urbandale.

Fellowship of Christian Athletes (FCA) is a nationwide organization which provides a Christian atmosphere for those involved in athletics.

They raise money by selling programs at East basketball games and at the state wrestling meets. They plan to go to Colorado in the summer of 1974 for a nationwide FCA camp.

For 1st time, AFS hosts two students

With the goal of sponsoring students from foreign countries, that they may better understand life in America, the American Field Service Club had a productive year.

For the first time in the history of the organization, two foreign students were sponsored during the same year.

Through weekly penny collections, the organization was able to finance the students.

Clubs serve, seek changes

Women's Lib has hit East High, and as a result girls were allowed as members in Lettermen's Club for the first time in the history of the school. There were many girls actively involved in the activities, working "hand-in-hand" with the regular male members. The main project of Lettermen's Club was the selling of programs at the state basketball tournament.

Key Club is a service organization composed of male students interested in people and the community. As a project for the Thanksgiving season, fruit baskets were made to distribute among needy people. Along with the service projects, Key Club also sold oranges, grapefruit, and East High pens to raise money.

Right: "And this is the trophy I won for my beauty," jokes John McMulin, (president of Lettermen's Club), to other officers Linda Gordon (secretary-treasurer), left, and Craig Malmberg (vice-president), center. Kiwanis Club honors "male leaders"

"Leaders of our high schools are the future leaders of society" is the main idea behind the recognition of young men as "Kiwanians of the Month." At the beginning of each month a senior boy was selected by Mr. Bridgewater, principal, to serve as Kiwanian. Every Wednesday of that month he attended a luncheon sponsored by the Downtown Kiwanis Club, a group of Des Moines businessmen.

These Kiwanians are chosen in accordance with their involvement in school activities, athletic and scholastic ability, and quality of leadership.

Four teams tie for second place

Dowling and Lincoln were the two games that helped boost the Searlet spirit to an all-time high. The team showed superb defense in the Dowling game by holding them scoreless the entire regulation game. In overtime, Dowling squeezed by, 8-6.

Two weeks later the Searlets beat Lincoln 22-14. According to Coach Charles, this was the turning point of the season. "The team displayed a blend of offensive and defensive coordination that carried them to three wins in the last four games, building a spirit toward next fall when 16 lettermen return." These two games put East in the running for the contested second place. The Metro Conference was undecided until the last game, and the Conference itself left many questions unanswered (i.e., Who were the third, fourth, and fifth place teams?).

Ending the season with a conference record of 4-3, the Searlets tied North, Roosevelt, and Lincoln for second place.

The all-city team included two of our players: senior Craig Malmberg and junior Rob Michelsen. On the second team were senior Mike Smith and juniors Tim O'Boyle, Riek Reese, and Bob Sellers. Receiving honorable mention were seniors Keith Wills, Mark Sandon, Kern Reese, and John McMulin, and juniors Mark Balancee and Tim Boozell.

Sophomores capture 2nd in Metro

If hard work and dedication are shown through a record, the sophomores' 6-1-1 finish is one indication of what the varsity team has to look forward to next year.

Two key players who helped contribute to the team's winning season were Rick Powell, who completed 50 percent of his passes, and Mike Wortham, who rushed over 1,000 yards in the eight games.

"Also, this was the best line material we've had in several years," added Coach Bankus.

Only three seniors but Varsity team improves

The Varsity Basketball Team started the season off 4-0 with ideas of going all the way. Because of this great start, the Scarlets were at one time rated ninth in the state. But the loss of seniors Rick Trumbo, Leroy Kaiser, and all-conference forward Tony "Slick" Jones hindered East's chances. Even with these setbacks, the rest of the team got together and put forth a 100 percent effort to end the season 8-11.

Coach Jessen was at the helm of East's Varsity Team for the second year. Most of the team will be back next season.

New Coach leads Canaries

Despite a losing season, the Canaries played well under terrific pressure. For example, in a game with Dowling, we were down by 18 points, but by the fourth quarter, we led by five. Unfortunately, Dowling came back to win by two points.

According to Coach Higdon, the rebounding improved as the season progressed. We out-rebounded Hoover, the first place team. Our outstanding players included Dave Richards and Dennis Wilkerson.

Girls tie for 2nd place

Spirit and skill combined to take the Girls' Basketball Team to a second-place metro tie with Roosevelt, finishing with an overall record of 10-8. The team defeated two non-conference opponents, Van Meter and Webster City.

Two girls were chosen for the all-city team: Vicki Clark, a guard, and Sherry Cocking, the city's leading scorer. Sherry set a new city record of 57 points against Dowling. The team's offensive average was 59 points a game.

Coach Murphy felt that it was a good season.

Great spirit and cooperation helped the cagers to a first place finish. The guards were small, but quick, and the forwards had a balanced offense.

Six Scarlet wrestlers participate in districts

Led by three seniors, Kevin Elder, Jeff Phillips, and Kern Reese, the 1973-74 scarlet matmen got the season under way with a convincing victory over Newton 41-14. After a win over Roosevelt 29-15, the team suffered a close loss to Lincoln 29-32. This hurt, since the wrestlers had to face four tough teams in a row: Colfax, Dowling, Clarion, and Valley.

Coach Lutz felt the team put forth everything they had and didn't suffer a letdown after losing. He also said this was his most enjoyable year since he'd been coaching.

The team loses five seniors, but with some junior varsity guys with varsity experience, Coach Lutz is looking forward to next year.

Leading the team were Mike Selover (who was undefeated), Jerry Hatchitt, Dan Adams, and Charlie Matthews. Hatchitt and Matthews also wrestled in a few varsity meets.

Coach Lutz said: "This team really worked hard all year. Most of the guys will be wrestling varsity next year."

Team 4th in regional, one to state

The second year for the girls' gymnastics team proved to be their best one yet as they improved enough to go, as a team, to the regional meet. There, junior Margaret Francis qualified in floor exercise and went on to earn fifth place in the state meet. Undefeated in the first five dual meets, the girls suffered only three losses, one of which was to the state champions, Roosevelt.

The girls compete in six events: bars, beam, floor exercise, vaulting, trampoline, and tumbling. Only the top four scores are added.

The girls' volleyball team could feel satisfied only when they advanced to the state meet by defeating North at districts. This was the first year of official, school-sponsored competition for the squad. Senior Doris Brun and Junior Connie Dalrymple co-captained the team. "We spent considerable time on basic skills this year," said Coach Knott. "Now we can stress more conditioning and offensive defensive strategic techniques."

Two record relays advance to state

"Small in numbers but mighty in strength" summed up the girls' swim team. Although small (with 13 girls) and young (with three seniors), the team broke five varsity records, and five girls went to the state meet. Both the 200-yard medley and the 400-yard freestyle relays tied or broke varsity records, placing fourteenth and seventeenth respectively at state.

This has been the first year of coaching girls here for Coach Gaeth, and he said, "With the experience we have gained, we can easily develop stronger workouts."

Seniors guide squad

With only two returning letter winners, Christie Clemenson and Becky Staley, Coach Cowles hoped to rebuild the team in the spring of '74. Lacking in experience, but making up for it in spirit, the team included four seniors, two juniors, and one sophomore. The team faced tough competition against Valley.

Getting 'set' for a 'match'!

Starting out the year with 33 participants, Coach Thompson feels that, even with the bad weather and the team's being young, the season holds much promise. With the four returning lettermen Dennis Beekman, Greg Brown, Dave Cook, and Joe McDonald, along with Phil Tindrell, a lettered sophomore from North, and the other players, the team should be able to hold their own.

It is felt by the coach and team that Roosevelt and Valley will be the tough competitors.

The girls' tennis team started out the season with a new coach, Mrs. Knott. The girls looked forward to a good year with five returning lettermen. They were seniors Carla Burdock, Diann Jordan, Marie Terrell, junior Debbie Todd, and sophomore Lauren Hunsberger. "Unfortunately there are no freshmen to assist the team," commented Mrs. Knott. Practice was held at Goodrell Junior High School on alternating nights. The players looked forward to using new tennis courts.

Boys, girls expect great season

Both boys' and girls' track teams looked forward to a successful season as they prepared for their upcoming meets. For the girls, this was the first real year of competition. "We have a young team, but I feel we can finish somewhere in the middle of the metro," said Coach Koroeh. "The older girls carry the team; they tend to be the leaders."

The boys had many returning members as they started their season. Bob Sellers, Dennis Cameron, Tony Williams, Gordon Milligan, and Leroy Kaiser all performed well.

Harriers look ahead

Hopes were running high as the 1973 cross country season got under way. Unfortunately, the 100 per cent effort was not enough to assure them of a victorious season.

The team was inexperienced, with only three seniors and the others sophomores and juniors.

The first-year coach, Mr. Phipps, said: "I enjoyed working with the team this year. The attitude was superb. We should have an extremely improved team next year."

Girls' softball finishes winning year

Winning five of their six games was just one of the many accomplishments of the 1973 girls' softball team. Led by the hitting of Linda Gordon, the pitching of Grace Gordon, and the defensive efforts of Sherry Cocking and Debbie Vandusseldorp, the team finished the season 9-3. They also made it to the districts, winning over Southeast Warren, 5-1, then losing to Saydel 12-2.

A main reason for the team's outstanding season was the pitching of sophomore Grace Gordon. She finished with a record of 7-1.

Coach Rice said: "The girls' attitude was superb. They knew what had to be done, and went out and did it. I'm looking forward to next year. We hope to go on to state."

Most of the girls will be back next year. The team will lose only four seniors.

INSIGHTS

In the news

The Comet Kohoutek, heralded as the comet of the century, proved to be quite a disappointment. Astronomers were misled about the brightness of Kohoutek which in reality was barely visible in the skies.

On January 6, the United States began a nationwide experiment to see whether Daylight Saving would help conserve energy. Parents, however, were up in arms because their children had to walk to school in the dark.

Harold Hughes, Democratic senator from Iowa, announced that he will not run for re-election. Instead, he is planning to go into full-time religious work.

Sheriff Jack Woodard was killed January 21 in a car accident north of Des Moines. Sam Wiess, former mayor of Altoona, was named as Woodard's replacement.

The Miami Dolphins defeated the Minnesota Vikings in the Super Bowl game January 13. The score was 24-7.

English's relevance interests many

Seeking to create courses more relevant to students and their needs, the English Department served many students well. Students were introduced to the four basic areas of English—reading, writing, speaking, and listening—and were made aware of the importance of thought as it is involved in each of these areas. The new music theater course provided students with a new insight into drama. Increasing the awareness of students, English served many.

Basic education in many areas provides skills

As students received basic instruction in many areas, the Industrial Arts Department came alive.

Creating useful pieces of furniture from wood, discovering the many uses of metals, and drafting actual projects at several levels, students in shop areas were educated through actual practice.

Girls made their debut in the area of auto mechanics as they sought the understanding of an auto's engine.

Varied courses taught by skilled teachers educated students with useful skills.

More boys than ever involved in Home Economics

Everyone, at one time in his life, needs to know a little, or a lot, about homemaking. This includes everything from sewing on a button to raising a family. Classes covering all these areas are offered to boys and girls alike.

Thirty per cent of the student body was enrolled in one or more of the seven homemaking classes. Out of this, 111 were boys, the largest number ever.

A new course, Personal Perspectives, was introduced second semester. Enrollment was open to sophomores only.

New department sparks interest among students

Photography, graphic arts, journalism, advertising, salesmanship, and commercial art. All these were integrated in the new Communications Media Department second semester.

Students were enrolled in this team-teaching situation, to be taught in six week sessions, in one of the first such departments of its kind in the nation.

As photographers, students were taught to tell a story creatively through pictures; as journalists, to write creative copy; and as graphic artists, to print.

Students seek understanding of foreign cultures

Foreign Language students were introduced to the cultures of many countries this year.

Spanish students were introduced to the festive Mexican Christmas spirit by making pinātas. Guest speakers visited German classes and brought with them many delightful and authentie tales of life in other countries. Latin students were introduced to the thrill of skiing, while French students planned a tour of Canada.

The goal of acquainting students with people of different lands was well accomplished by all language classes.

Students gain useful skills in business fields

Introducing students to business-related subjects, the Business Education department had a very productive year.

New equipment and new classrooms were used for a full year for the first time, and again the department had one of the largest enrollments in the school.

Business-related and secretarial classes experienced a trip to Preferred Risk and were addressed by Mrs. Carter, a representative from Sears.

Using modern machines in modern surroundings, students were well prepared for careers in business-related fields.

Math has new course providing larger selection

When talking about math, students think of addition and subtraction, but there is a lot more to math than that. Seven different courses of math were offered here. They were general math, geometry, algebra, advanced algebra, trigonometry, calculus, and the math of finance.

This wide selection gave the student an opportunity to take just the right course for his particular needs.

Math of Finance was a new course. It deals with stocks, bonds, interest, and taxes. Mrs. Kingsbury taught this class.

Ecology class grows—largest enrollment ever

Science covers many fields. Biology, chemistry, ecology, physics, and physical science: all these were classes offered.

Ecology has really grown. Last year there was one section with only 30 students. It increased to five sections and 150 students. Visual aids were often used in this class. Some of the films seen were obtained from the Area XI Library.

New equipment in the Science Department included three oil immersion microscopes.

Science, in general, has a lot to offer, and it was offered here.

Top right: Who's winning? It's hard to say, but these boys seem to be having fun and getting exercise at the same time. PE, Driver Ed: pupils coordinate minds, bodies

Physical education classes ranged from swimming all year for sophomore girls to an elective program for junior and senior girls. A four-day physical education class for sophomore and junior boys included everything from swimming to baseball. Senior boys had a one-day-a-week program. For the first time, girls in swim classes were enrolled according to their skill achievement.

Driver education is a three-phase course: class, car, and simulator (second semester only). Classes are enrolled by age on a firstcome basis.

Five vocal and five instrumental classes were offered to students interested in music.

Two new classes were added to the vocal section—Chamber Choir and Music Theatre (second semester). Nineteen students and Mr. Carnes went to Rome and Paris December 26 through January 2.

New to the instrumental section this year was Mr. Bury. He brought with him many new ideas for improvements and new classes. One hundred fifty Marching Scarlets, 25 chaperons, and Mr. Bury went to Mardi Gras February 14-19.

Variety makes Social Science fun

One day, while passing the auditorium, you may have thought it had been turned into a movie theater. More than likely, the Social Science department had taken over, since movies were often used during the year. One of the films was "Gone with the Wind."

Past history wasn't the only thing studied; current events were looked into, too. During the elections, students got involved backing candidates, and working in their campaigns.

Art, Study Hall find new homes

Classes often shift around, and study hall and art were no exception. Not until the snack bar was moved during first semester was the transition complete.

Although study hall transferred to the new cafeteria last year, something was missing. The Art Department underwent changes, too. After much turmoil, new rooms were remodeled to expand the facilities. The applied art section left its area, and traveled across the hall to four new rooms. This addition gave needed space for looms and other supplies.

Work Study, New Horizons offer a change

Sometimes kids need a chance to do something different. New Horizons and Work Study give students just such an opportunity.

New Horizons allows a student not only to take a schedule of required subjects, but also to work part-time and get credit for it. Often, this arrangement interests those students who are discontent with the usual academic system.

Work Study is a program where students also have half a day of regular studies, and then go to jobs in various areas. Sometimes these jobs are continued even after graduation.

Right: Mr. Bridgewater, principal, tries to finish his never-ending work. Below: Mr. Bridgewater hurries out of his office on an important errand.

They did more in seventy four

"Let's do more in seventy four." Mr. Bridgewater started this saying, and he saw that it was fulfilled.

Along with the position of principal, Mr. Bridgewater had certain other duties. Two of these were helping Student Government and acting as chief liaison official with the central office.

Mr. Powell is vice principal, senior advisor, and the head of building management. Junior advisor and director of clubs and activities is Mr. Bagdonas. Academic and curriculum changes and acting as sophomore advisor are the duties of Mr. Schmitt.

Have a problem? They'll help you

Each student, upon entering East High, is assigned to a counselor. He continues with this same counselor until graduation. Accumulated data on each student is kept on file with the counselor and with his advisor. This information, plus consultations with the student, his teachers, the nurse, and the advisors, helps the counselor assist the student with vocational guidance, program planning, personal problems, selection of a college, and the securing of scholarships.

Willingly, they serve students, faculty

Behind the scenes at our school a dedicated group of people have served both students and faculty.

Both eustodians and matrons spent many long hours maintaining and improving the environment in which we work.

The lunehroom staff dedicated their time to preparing enjoyable meals, and also served for many other occasions.

Both of the staffs' talents served us well.

The Independent Truckers went on strike February 1, protesting higher gasoline prices and slower speed limits. A compromise was reached between truckers and government officials on March 8.

A Turkish Airline DC10 jetliner exploded and crashed shortly after takeoff Sunday, March 3, and killed all 346 persons aboard in the worst catastrophe in civil aviation history.

Miss Patricia Hearst, the California publishing heiress, was kidnapped on February 4 by members of the Symbionese Liberation Army. The abductors demanded that the Hearst family donate food for the poor people of California.

Nine streakers were arrested March 6, in Iowa City for disorderly conduct. Streaking—people running naked in public—is the latest “fad” on college campuses throughout the United States.

We've finally arrived

When we really think about it, it only seems days ago since we first started to school. We were scared and felt small and insignificant. We didn't want to share crayons with the kid next to us. All we wanted to do was go home and euddle with "Teddy." In reality, it's been thirteen whole years. We've passed the "sandbox" stage, the "reeess" stage, and the "identity erisis" stage, and now . . . we've finally arrived . . . arrived to a big world. A world waiting for us to make it or break it. A world where we're bound to one another, yet a world where each of us is uniquely different within. A world with one road and only one to the future, with no turning back to the time when life was just a game. No, we've finally arrived . . . to the real life ahead.

We've come a long way

Hey, seniors! Remember when we were sophomores? The rookies of East High? Remember when we fell victim to upperclassmen's remarks such as, "There is no truth to the rumor that there is an elevator at East. However, escalator tickets go on sale Oct. 1. Contact any senior, and special attention, sophomores: the southwest staircase has been changed into an escalator. When the bell rings, stand on the stairs and wait."

With the changing of seasons the snow fell and an announcement was made. "Sorry, underclassmen. This year there won't be any recess for making snowmen, so you'll have to find other ways to impress the girls."

A year came and went. We were juniors! But there just wasn't any escaping the "kind" comments and "helpful" suggestions from the senior class, such as, "If you see some juniors with bloodshot eyes, don't worry; the only thing they've been drinking is pool water." What could we do but wait? After all, it wasn't but a few months before we would be in the position of "superiority."

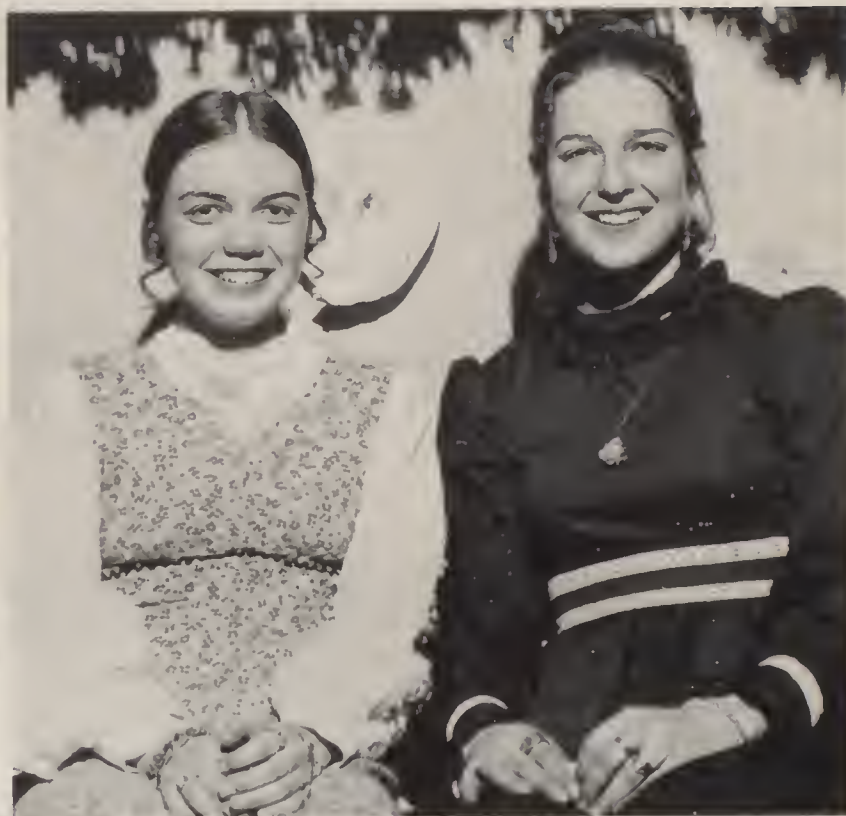

We made it, but guess what? They don't make teenagers as dumb as they use to. Somewhere along the way, the sophomore and junior class wised up while we sat around and laughed. They learned to fight back while we weren't watching. Gems such as: "The sophomore girls know their way around. If they want a senior guy, they just check the closest trash can. There's bound to be one on (or in) it." Try this one for size: "A bad case of senioritis has plagued a lot of senior girls. A few of them have had those symptoms since their sophomore year, and why are there so many students in the hall at 8:16 every morning? Could it be that the seniors are still having trouble finding their homerooms?"

It's enough to make you want to give up! So while you sit and read this, just remember: Due to the lack of participation, school will be cancelled for seniors next year . . .

turned up-side down*

Above: Gregg Jones seems to be hung up lately. Makes you wonder what's at the bottom of it all, or maybe it should be "at the top of it all." Left: Cheerleader Jon Burzaeott is busting at the seams to make a good impression at the Valley-East assembly.

Below: "Aw come on, don't you want to buy an elevator ticket?" asks John Clayton as Tim Burmeister seems to enjoy the joke.

Defining the abstract of love

If I had the gift of being able to speak in other languages without learning them, but didn't love others, I would only be making noise.

If I knew all about what was going to happen in the future and had faith enough to move mountains but didn't love others, what good would it do?

Even if I gave everything I had to the poor and turned my body over to be burnt, I still would be worth nothing at all without love.

Love is very patient and kind, never jealous or envious, never boastful or proud.

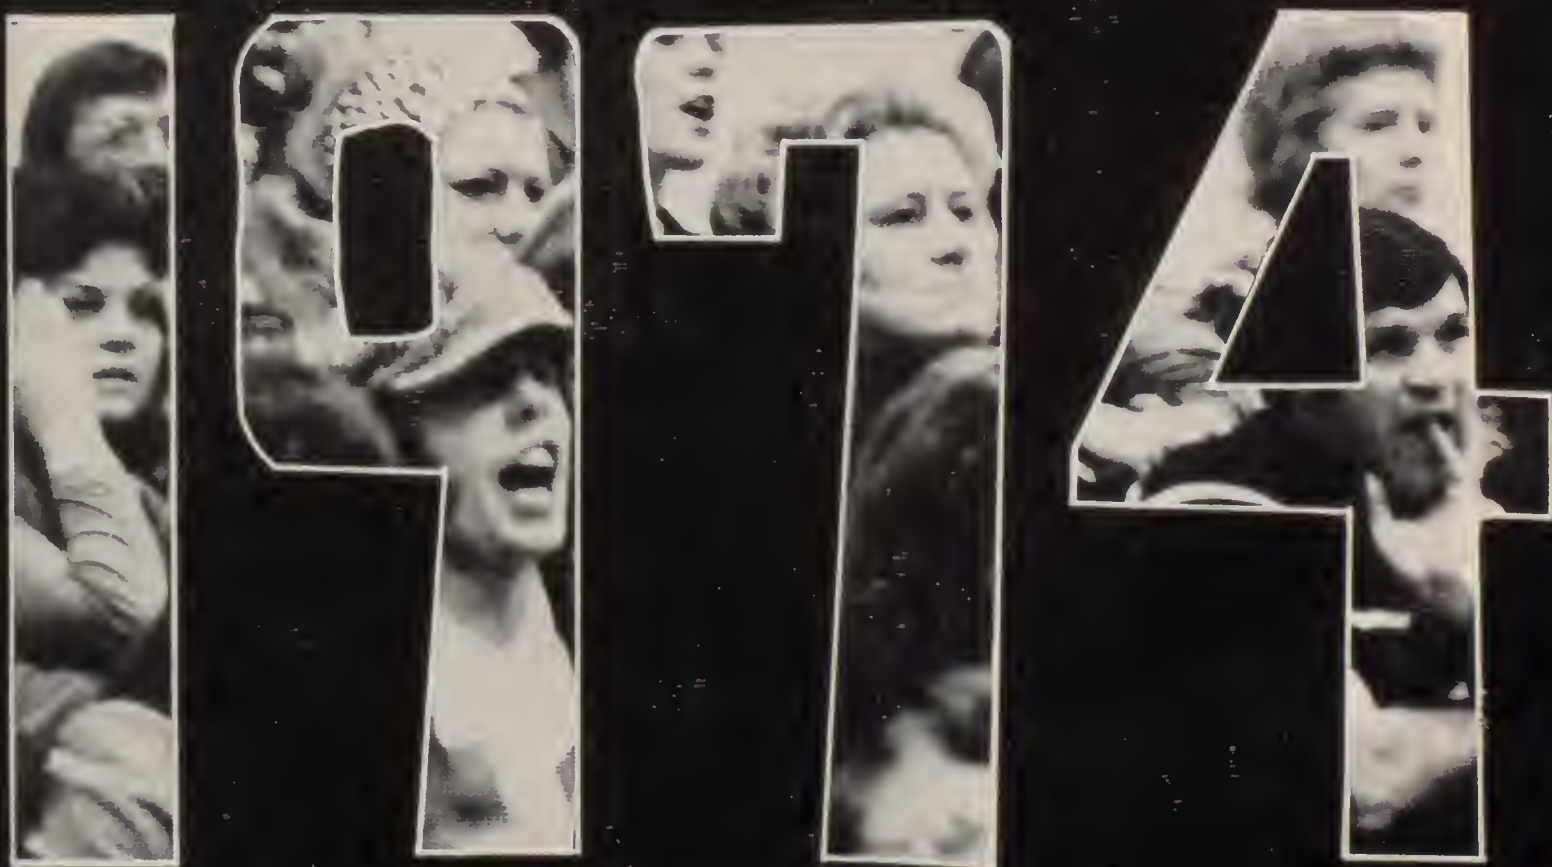

Never haughty, selfish, or rude. It is not irritable or touchy. Love doesn't hold grudges and will hardly ever notice when others do it wrong.

If you love someone, you will be loyal to him, no matter what the cost. You will always believe in him, always expect the best from him, and always stand your ground in defending him. There are three things that remain. Faith, hope and love, but the greatest of these is love.

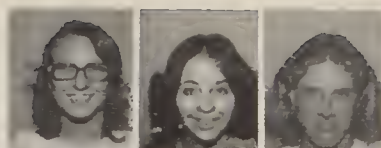

—paraphrase of I Corinthians

The anguish of waiting

Hope is reflected in the faces of these spectators.

Friends

Let us be friends,
We'll laugh until time ends,

Let's talk until the moon's craters vanish and on the grass appears a dew-drop garnish.

Let me be your friend
until our lives do end.

And let's remember each other even when we're not together.

Let's hope our friendship will last until all time and space has passed.

So let me be your friend.

Sophs build a tradition

Entering as a sophomore is a completely new experience. New faces, new schedules, rules, and activities are just the beginning of a fun-filled high school career.

Heading the roster of many "firsts" for the sophomore class are the sophomore Cheerleaders, open finals, and our first complete year in the new wing. As always, there live our famous traditions: Homecoming activities, pep assemblies, Student Government, and receiving our Scrolls and Quill.

Come winter, however, there is invariably time for an old-fashioned snowman complete with eyes, buttons, and a scarf. Sophomore Kim Montgomery takes time out to create East's very own snowman on the front lawn to smile at the pupils of Scarlet Country.

DRAKE

Going away to college?

Go away to Drake.

That's right, Drake University! Come to Drake and live on campus. Think about the advantages . . . on your own but close enough to home for "emergencies" like borrowing the car or replenishing the bank account at a moment's notice. Think about the advantage you have over the out-of-towners who don't know the ins-and-outs of your hometown.

Think about the educational advantages at Drake. A degree from Drake means a head-start on your career. Want proof? Right now, 94% of last year's graduates have a job in the field they chose.

There's a lot more happening between Forest and University than you realize. Stop by and let's talk about going away to Drake. If you're in a hurry, call us at 271-3181.

Grand View College ...the personal college.

Grand View College—Education with a personal point of view.
That means we see the person as the center of our purpose.

For more than three-quarters of a century we've been convinced that education doesn't all come from textbooks and classrooms. Meaningful education also comes from learning about yourself, learning about values to serve you a lifetime.

A Grand View education means a dedicated faculty who share a common commitment to help each student develop through the entire spectrum of mind, body, and spirit.

If you're looking for the personal dimension in higher education, make Grand

View your first choice.

A turning point in our history

The decade of the 70's may well go down in history as a turning point in the lifestyle of this country.

A time when man suddenly awoke from a lifestyle of increasing, and many times wasteful, energy consumption. And when he awoke to decreasing fuel and energy supplies he took a positive step and entered the age of energy conservation.

It will be noted as a time when it became as important to use existing energy supplies wisely, as to find and develop new and alter sources.

That's why at Iowa Power, we think practical energy conservation, like insulating your home, is so important.

Important because we don't think it makes sense for any of us to use or pay for more energy than we really need.

At Iowa Power, it's our responsibility to provide adequate supplies of energy. It's your responsibility not to waste any of it.

GOOD-BYE
and
GOOD LUCK
to the underclassmen
— from the class of 1974.

Left to right: Carol Johnson, Brad Winterbottom and Kathy Green.

As part of Youngers firm belief in the young people of today, a program is offered each year for the Des Moines area schools. . . TEEN BOARD for junior and senior girls, and ADVISORY BOARD for junior and senior boys. These young people, selected to represent their schools, are chosen for leadership qualities, high scholastic standings, personal recommendations from school administrators and evaluation from members of the retiring boards, plus their interest and ability in retail and fashion. They participate in special fashion shows during the year, give talks in their schools and to other groups on good grooming, publish a monthly newsletter and work in various junior departments each Saturday. Youngers salutes the representatives from EAST HIGH SCHOOL for a job very well done.

East High expansion—many changes

The new addition has brought about many changes. One of these is a program where, over the next four years, East will be developing a cable TV program. A total of 25 staff members and students began training second semester in the three areas of cable TV, videotape recording, and closed circuit TV.

Another addition was that of an electronics class. Students enrolled in this class were taught the basic fundamentals of electricity.

The additional space has meant new quarters for already existing departments. These include the Business Education and Social Science departments. The Man and Society classes have the added attraction of being housed in the Seminar Room which, when partitioned off, divides into four classrooms.

The journalism and photography classes also have new quarters. These two classes, along with printing, advertising, salesmanship, and commercial art, comprise the new Communications Media department. One of the final products of this department will be the Scroll, completely written and printed by East students.

Transition of the old cafeteria to the new Student Center was another change brought about by the expansion. Money used for decorating and furnishing (in the amount of $1200) came from the estate of the late Dick Pinegar.

The Des Moines School Board has approved plans for the development of a drivers' training facility near East. It would be located north of Buchanan Street and south of University Avenue between E. 14th and E. 15th Streets, just west of Williams Stadium.

Look back and remember past year

As the end of school draws near, it is only natural to look back over the past year.

For the seniors, it is remembering times that you've already forgotten about, thinking about friends that you may never see again, and wondering just where you are going.

Juniors look forward to that big senior year, hoping at the same time that it won't pass by as quickly as the past two years have.

Sophomores are just glad to be able to say they are juniors.

We hope that we have helped you remember your special time.
